Parents today need positive energy and resiliency more than ever before. Have you ever wondered why your children seem frustrated and misunderstood. This powerful 2 Part Presentation is instrumental in assisting parents in applying new approaches to interacting with their children. This course has significant impact on parents' wellness, resiliency and optimism. The teachings are based on the fundamentals of Leading Self as a Parent. CPE – Parenting provides real tools from the Tree of Abundance that significantly change the relationship between parent and child in a positive way.

Parents from across the city, who have attended this workshop, have said that it simply changes the game completely when leading their children, whether they are grade school age or grown adults. It will fundamentally change the parent / child relationship in a positive way forever.

“Brilliant, Simple, Impactful & Mind Blowing. Creating Positive Energy - Parenting will cause you to re-examine your views on parenting at their core.” Jim M, Participant May 2013
